- Discussion of draft communication policies from Chief Marketing and Communications Officer – Jim Zook
 - Media Relations Policy
 - Mr. Zook spoke to the history of the development of this new draft policy discussed this evening and explained the issues the current policy (overly broad and vague) presents.
 - A number of questions focused on inferred restrictions due to the language of the policy which may apply more broadly (to all aspects of employee activity/interaction with media) than intended (it seems the intent is to focus on official statements, university news, official media advisories).

- A request was made to expand the review of comparable policies from peer institutions (SUG).

Social Media Policy

- Comments here focused primarily on section 2.4; specifically the language "all faculty and staff should conduct themselves in a way that is befitting of the institution and complies with....".

Best Practices for University Employees' Personal Social Media Accounts

- It was made clear this will be a living document and that this is not to be a policy, but rather guidance for faculty.
- Dr. Rosenthal encouraged faculty to submit any additional comments/suggestions so that they might be shared with UM&C.
